I totally disagree with the government. Microsoft did not do anything wrong and the law itself should be erased from the books on moral grounds. This is the best example of non-objective law that we have on the books today. In a free country you are free to do anything as long as you don't infringe on anyone rights which Bill Gates didn't do. Capitalism is not based on free competition, it is base on freedom i.e. the freedom to think of any idea and see if the market will buy it Therefore the Justice Department should be doing what it should have been doing all along protecting the rights of its citizens from the likes of bin laden not going after a true American like Bill Gates The justice Department should drop all charges and praise him from his sprit The people around the hate us for this sprit and they want to kill us for our ideas. Govverment just wants to muffle and hurt its citazens with this unjust law. It is a shame that in a country that upholds freedom as its basic tenet that a man can not do business as he pleases.
